

Notification of Order Name Changes

As a result of a Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) rule change that applies to all FINRA member firms, including Merrill Lynch, on or about January 21, 2013, Stop and Stop Limit orders will be renamed Stop Quote and Stop Quote Limit orders, respectively. Depending on your Merrill Lynch service channel, you may have the option to place one or both of these order types. Investors generally use Stop Quote and Stop Quote Limit orders to either limit a loss or protect a gain on a security.

For your convenience, below is a description of a Stop Quote order and a Stop Quote Limit order, including the triggering events.

Previous Order Name	New Order Name	Description
Stop Order	Stop Quote Order	A sell Stop Quote order is placed at a stop price below the current market price and will trigger, if the national best bid quote is at or lower than the specified stop price. A buy Stop Quote order is placed at a stop price above the current market price and will trigger if the national best offer quote is at or higher than the specified stop price. Once triggered, a Stop Quote order becomes a market order (buy or sell, as applicable), and execution prices can deviate significantly from the specified stop price.

Previous Order Name	New Order Name	Description
Stop Limit Order	Stop Quote Limit Order	A Stop Quote Limit order combines the features of a Stop Quote order and a limit order. A sell Stop Quote Limit order is placed at a stop price below the current market price and will trigger, if the national best bid quote is at or lower than the specified stop price. A buy Stop Quote Limit order is placed at a stop price above the current market price and will trigger, if the national best offer quote is at or higher than the specified stop price. Once triggered, a Stop Quote Limit order becomes a limit order (buy or sell, as applicable) at a specified limit price, and execution may not occur as the market price can move away from the specified limit price.
