Merrill Lynch Trust Company Update

Earlier this month a notice was mailed to you about upcoming brand changes related to Merrill Lynch Trust Company. The following is a recap of that notice:

In order to simplify the way we present trust solutions to our clients, beginning March 31, 2015, all personal trust products and services will be represented by the U.S. Trust® brand. At the same time the Merrill Lynch Trust Company name will be retired. The Merrill Lynch and Private Banking & Investment Group brands will remain in place as they are today.

This change will not affect your relationship with your Merrill Lynch financial advisor or your trust officer.

You will continue to access your account information just as you do today. The only changes you'll see will be in your trust officer's business card, stationery and email, which will reflect the U.S. Trust brand. In addition, your Trust Management Account (TMA) information, including statements, will carry both the U.S. Trust and Merrill Lynch logos.

If you have any questions, please reach out to your financial advisor.

Notice Regarding Payment for Order Flow and Order Routing Information

In accordance with SEC customer disclosure rules, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated (“Merrill Lynch”) is hereby informing you that it does not receive payment for order flow from venues to which Merrill Lynch routes its customer orders in equity securities. Merrill Lynch may receive rebates from and pays fees to certain registered securities exchanges for providing or taking liquidity on those exchanges, according to those exchanges’ published fee schedules approved by the SEC.

We handle your order so as to obtain a competitive execution price and we regularly monitor the quality of our executions. SEC regulations require that Merrill Lynch disclose the venues to which we route our customers’ orders for equity securities, as well as certain material aspects of our relationships with those venues. For both exchange listed and over-the-counter equity transactions, Merrill Lynch equity trading desks are market making desks and may be one of those venues where our customer orders may be routed for execution. If an order is executed with a Merrill Lynch equity trading desk, where permitted by law, the trade confirmation will indicate that Merrill Lynch executed such order in a principal capacity. If you would like a written copy of this information, or information concerning where your individual orders were routed and executed, please contact your Merrill Lynch representative. Our order routing information is updated quarterly and is also available online at <http://corp.bankofamerica.com/business/ci/best-execution>.

Please note: Orders placed through any automatic telephone trading service, electronic, or online trading systems cannot specify a particular market center for execution.*

Customer Order Protection Disclosure

We have in place effective internal controls, including information barriers, to prevent the inappropriate sharing of order information among our equity trading desks. In this regard, each of our equity trading desks independently conducts its trading activities. To the extent permitted by rule or law, when a desk or trading unit, (e.g., including a market making desk which engages in block positioning and provides firm bid/offer quotes) handles your equity orders, other Merrill Lynch equity trading units or desks may separately transact – without knowledge of your orders – for their principal accounts at prices that would satisfy your orders. Conversely, if your orders are handled by another of our equity trading desks or units and no attempt is made to obtain liquidity for your orders from the market making desk, you should understand that the market making desk may separately transact – without knowledge of your orders – for its principal accounts at prices that would satisfy your orders. In either case, the relevant equity trading desk or unit’s execution prices could be better, the same, or worse than the prices you receive for the same security.

as permitted by SEC Rule 15c3-1. At December 31, 2014, Merrill Lynch's regulatory net capital as defined by Rule 15c3-1 was $9.669 billion and exceeded the minimum requirement of 1.298 billion by $8.371 billion. In accordance with the Alternative Net Capital Requirements, Merrill Lynch is required to maintain tentative net capital in excess of $1 billion, net capital in excess of $500 million, and notify the SEC in the event its tentative net capital is less than $5 billion. As of December 31, 2014, Merrill Lynch had tentative net capital and net capital in excess of the minimum and notification requirements.

Householding of Mailings from Merrill Lynch

If you have linked your Merrill Lynch accounts for mailing purposes with the Statement Link Service, Merrill Lynch will reference your established link relationship to consolidate other mailings we send you (such as trade confirms, service notices, and other important notices), provided all accounts in the link relationship have the same mailing address. This service enhancement will help reduce the amount of mailings you receive from us.

You can further reduce the amount of mailings we send you by electing to receive your account records electronically. To learn more about our free electronic delivery service, please visit mymerrill.com.

Statement Values for Certain Specialty Assets

Market values on your statements for any Real Property and Closely Held Business investments are approximations based on periodic appraisals, assessments or common practices for these types of assets. Such values are updated at intervals set in accordance with our procedures and may differ from a value derived today by the same method. Market values on your statements for any Oil, Gas and Mineral interests are calculated from the most recent 12 months' net income from producing interests and include a nominal value for non producing properties. These market values should not be used or relied on for transactional, tax or any purposes other than general information.

Merrill Lynch Disclosure Update

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated offers its products, accounts and services through different service models (e.g., self-directed, full-service). Based on the service model, the same or similar products, accounts and services may vary in their prices or fees charged to a client.

Let Us Know if Your Circumstances Have Changed

In order to serve you better, please promptly notify your financial advisor or Trust Officer if there have been any changes in your financial or personal circumstances, or the information you have previously provided, that might affect the manner in which your assets or your trust's assets should be invested. Also, please let us know of such changes that may affect distributions being made to you from a trust.

SIPC Information

You may obtain information regarding the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC), including the SIPC Brochure, via the SIPC's website at sipc.org or by calling SIPC at 202.371.8300.

Limits on Foreign Ownership of Certain Communications, Maritime and Aviation Issues

Certain laws impose restrictions on foreign ownership of certain communications, maritime, aviation and other specialized businesses. These restrictions limit the foreign ownership of securities in these industries to a percentage of the outstanding shares.

If Merrill Lynch is notified that the percentage of foreign ownership for a particular issue exceeds the predetermined limit based on the Depository Trust Company's allocation process, Merrill Lynch will identify the last shares purchased by a customer and may need to liquidate the position causing the overage. Reasonable efforts will be made to contact the affected customer or customers in advance of the liquidation.

A current list of the impacted issues can be found on the Depository Trust Company website at:
http://www.dtcc.com/~media/Files/Downloads/client-center/DTC/DTC_Issues_Subject_To_Certifications.ashx.

Notice to Traditional IRA Owners

If you receive distributions from your traditional IRA, federal and state income taxes will be withheld according to your most recent written election made by you on the IRA Distribution Form that is on file with us. Any election you previously made will remain in effect until you revoke it. If you elect not to have withholding apply to your distributions, you may be responsible for the payment of estimated tax. You may also incur penalties if your withholding and estimated taxes are insufficient. Please consult with your tax advisor or attorney for help with this matter. If you wish to change or revoke your prior tax withholding election please contact your financial advisor or Trust Officer.

One-Per-Year Limit on IRA Rollovers

Based upon a new IRS interpretation of an existing rule, you can make only one rollover from an IRA to another (or the same) IRA in any 12-month period, regardless of the number of IRAs you own. You can, however, continue to make as many trustee-to-trustee transfers between IRAs as you want. You can also make as many rollovers from traditional IRAs to Roth IRAs (“conversions”) as you want.
